HEAD GIRL OUTGOING SPEECH PRESENTED

Today is a memorable day for me as I have just ended an episode in my life. Now, I am about to start a new chapter of my life... secondary school.

Life is not a race but indeed a journey. It always seems impossible until it is finished. There is a universal truth we all have to face; whether we want it or not, everything eventually ends. Today is one of those days for me. Today, I say goodbye to everything that was familiar and comfortable. It hurts that I am leaving. There's some people who are so much a part of us and they will be with us no matter what. They are our solid ground and small voices in our hearts. Though I leave today, they will always be my heart.... always. We came here hiding dreams behind the smile, but are leaving hiding tears behind the same smile; We came here with a bunch of queries but are leaving with a bunch of memories.

We came here and wanted marks in our exams which will eventually fade away but are leaving with marks and footprints of memories which will never fade away.

Being elected as the Head Girl of this noble institution as an honor I will ever cherish. The position has helped me to discover myself, my ability and my leadership skills. It has helped me to build dreams on leadership. I hope my dreams take me to the corners of my smile, to the highest of my hopes, to the windows of my opportunities and to the most special places my heart has ever known. To be a better person is such an intensely beautiful thing; Who I am in this moment is valid and worthy. My dreams are valid, my goals are valid, My happiness is valid because I have discovered myself and realized that I have so much potential within me; I am capable of so much. Time has passed really fast since the first day I stepped my feet on Clairemont School. I have been studying six-year long and have learnt a lot. All thanks to our school community especially our beloved teachers for the chance they gave us with all their passion, patience and sincerity. I apologize for any and every behavior either bad, rude, naughty etc that made my teachers mad or irritated, it wasn't intentional as I know not what I was doing.

A lot of my successes, I owe to the ones who gave me my wings to fly; To God Almighty, my parents, Clairemont School, my immediate family & extended, my friends and well-wishers. Graduation is time to remember and a time to dream; a time for songs of laughter and a time for tears of joy; a time for letting go and a time for discovering dreams that are yet unborn; a time to say goodbye to yesterday and a time to greet tomorrow with courage; a time for loving hearts to gather and a time to celebrate all that we may become; chasing my dreams but always knowing the road that will lead me home again. To those I have left behind, together we have experienced life, separately we will pursue our dreams. Always remember, be the change you want to see in the world as you can do all things through Christ who strengthens you.

To my co-graduands, we will continue our journey to Mater Ecclesiae College. I hope that we always implement all of the things impacted on us.

Thanks to my family for the support you give and the continuous prayers spoken to God on my behalf thus, I ended well. Every exit is an entry elsewhere! Its time to say goodbye, but I think goodbyes are sad; so I would rather much say

Hello to a new adventure!

Moving From UK to Nigeria- My Clairemont Experience

Have you ever seen a fish out of water? Ordinarily, moving a child from one school to another in Nigeria could present the child with a serious emotional and academic struggle. So, imagine how the struggle goes to a greater level when I move from a school in UK to a school in Nigeria.

First, when I met my new schoolmates and friends in Nigeria, they did not understand my accent. I did not understand their accents as well. When they tried to speak to me, they used new words that I was not familiar. Some of these words I had never heard in my life. I always wanted to withdraw and not participate in social activities because a lot was very different from what I was used to.

With time Classes became interesting as I started learning new and interesting things like Speed Math and Math Tricks and other things. In truth, some of the things I learnt initially, the amount of class work, assignments and even my teachers expectations were quite challenging. Some of my mates were ahead of me because their education was a little different from mine.

But with determination, I began to cope with the work, the moment I realized I had to work a little harder. I also found out I needed to write a lot here. This was a real struggle for me because I did not write so much in my previous school. I had trouble writing well and staying in the margins. I can assure you my handwriting was bad, very bad, and shabby. I had to start all over to learn to write. With time I got used to writing a lot and my handwriting got better. I had to study really hard to improve my performances, which were not good enough then. Other things got better too, including my class participation and competitiveness, to the extent that I was able to beat over 400 other children to secure admission into Mater Ecclesiae College Epe and also got admitted into Chrisland College Lagos.

On the emotional side, I sometimes had mood swings. I was shy about going to class activities and school activities cause I thought my classmate didn't like me. But the Clairemont Inter- House Sports was what eventually opened the doors of friendship for me. The Inter-House Sports got me interacting more and more with almost everyone in Clairemont school. Competing for my house, the indomitable Yellow house, made me more popular with my schoolmates and classmates. Clairemont became like a home for me, where I look forward to coming each morning.

Clairemont School has reformed me so much Both academically socially and morally within very short period. All of my social, educational and emotional experiences wrapped into one, produced a resounding success as it culminated into a more focused and determined spirit. I do not eat the fruit of laziness anymore as I have learnt that hard work pays.

As I graduate today, I want to thank Clairemont school for helping me so much in a very short space of time. Consequently, I do not regret moving to Nigeria to continue my education. May God bless the Clairemont family Amen.

Thank you.
I am Daniel Anachebe.

Tobenna

Your destiny is in two places: one is in your hands, and the other is in your dreams.
Never ever give up your struggle to achieve your dreams!

Don't dream your life, live your dream. Dream until your dream comes through.

Kamsi

Be brave enough to live the life of your dreams according to your vision and purpose instead of the expectations and opinions of others.

Victoria

Each night, your dreams come to inspire you to bring out the magic in your mind.

Chikayima

It is not needful for our dreams to be very grand nor very big. It is only needful for our dreams to be very shiny.

Kosy

If we spend enough time dreaming then the dream might eventually become real. Dreams are fulfilled at the right. Be patient and wait for the fulfillment of your dreams.

Chimuanya

Keep the faith. The vision is always for the appointed time. Be patient, prayerful and wait for the fulfillment of your visions.

Amarachi

I have a dream". Is your dream very big? "No" "well is it very grand? "Not either" "neither?" "Neither" "what is it then?" it is very shiny.

We must reach out for our full potential. The potential lies in our inner strength.

When you show courage in the face of adversity, you change your life and others. Luck is great, but life is meant to be experienced. Sometimes the only way out of stress is through it; face struggle to overcome challenges in life.

Okoro Gold

2nd Speaker

Many times battle happens to help teach us a lesson. We can either learn from that lesson or deny it. the human mind's primary goal is to keep you safe. Sometimes this leads to self-sabotage as it's just easier to stay in your comfort zone and avoid risk. However, great things never come from mediocrity. Be Fearless

Boldly go in the direction of your dreams. Stand tall and show the world what you are made of. When the world beats you down, find a reason to get back up again. Never give up on the success. Try, try, try and try again. Feed your mind ideas of success, not failure.

DREAM Grade 2

Hold fast to dreams, For if dreams die, Life is a broken-winged bird
That cannot fly.

Hold fast to dreams, For when dreams go, Life is a barren field, Frozen with snow.

Chloe Ekhato

Everyone has dreams, goals, aspirations and things they strive to achieve. Some people's dreams are more far fetched while others are more realistic. Nonetheless, everyone has a dream. It's what fuels one to work hard. He or she knows that in order to achieve their goal or goals, they must work hard and try his or her best.

Nneoma Agbogu

The poem "Dreams" by Langston Hughes really defines just how important it is for one to have dreams. The poem compared dead dreams to a life that is like a bird that cannot fly. Both things were broken and sad. By making this comparison, the author seemed to be trying to emphasize just how important dreams are for one to have. When one's dreams die, then his or her life becomes broken, just like the bird who can't fly. This means that it is very important to have something to strive for, because if one doesn't have goals, than he will not work hard to reach anything. Instead, he will just willow away not trying to accomplish anything.

Chukwudiegwu Dozie

Another comparison that Langston Hughes makes that shows just how important he thinks dreams are is when he compared letting go of your dreams to a "barren field, frozen with snow." He means that not only is having dreams important, but holding onto them is just as important as having them. If one lets go of his dreams, then life will not be worth living. It will be boring and dismal if one gives up on his dreams. He will feel like a failure for not achieving his goals. Instead, of giving up, one should strive to obtain his dreams and make them into a reality.

The poem really summarizes the significance of dreams, for it basically states that life without dreams would be pointless. If one doesn't have dreams, then he might as well not be living because without dreams there is no life. One must have something to strive for. Whether it be a small or large goal, doesn't really matter.

Chiegboka Munachi

Nobody can exist without a dream. Everyone dreams of the future to some extent or the other. Unfortunately not all of these dreams are realistic or can be achieved.

When we get older our dreams start to change and become more mature. We start dreaming of what profession or career path we should choose once we leave school. When we become parents our dreams change even further and we start to dream about the kind of life we can provide for our children and opportunities that we can provide to them. Some dreams are far simpler. Somebody who is homeless and unemployed dreams of a hot shower and a fulfilling meal. These are things that we take for granted.

Chizitelu Odikpo

Our dreams are shaped by circumstances, where we live, where we go to school, what our parents do for a living and of course by our own talents.

Anyaogu Munachi

Striving for greatness comes with overcoming obstacles on the journey. So tell me, What are the reasons as to why we do not fulfill our dreams? Maybe it is because we lack the inner motivation and desire within ourselves; or we tend to blame other people for our failures; or perhaps we are missing the resources that we desperately need. Sometimes it may be because others discourage us. A dream is a personal desire to accomplish something that we want to achieve, but we do not necessarily know where to begin or even have enough confidence within ourselves to fulfill it.

Amanda Martins

In conclusion, our dreams are not to be taken for granted. Dreams will lead us in the future. They are what gives us life, they help us succeed in life, and they let our minds roam and soar higher in the human imagination. Dreams are our guide, all we need to do is follow. Follow our dreams into the unknown.

A famous writer once said that, "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams".

A dream doesn't become reality through magic; it takes sweat, determination and hard work.

All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them

Kosisochukwu Nwosu

GRADE 3

Dreams are goals that you want to achieve. Sometimes it takes a lot to reach your dreams, and sometimes you don't. But either way, it's worth taking the chance.

How does getting what you want make you feel? Despite where you are and the circumstances, you can decide to live more than a life most people are only content to live.

Onyeiwu Melvin-Uche

Living your dreams means that you must be task-focused; with a strong will to fulfil your dreams, no matter what it will cost you. If your dream is going to become a reality, you are going to implement your plans to reach your goals. The problem is that people will try to convince you that what you want is impossible. It will truly be hard, and there is many a time you will want to give up. When you have identified the object of your desire, you must start mapping out how to confront any negativity with tenacity and audacity to achieve your purpose in life for a life without purpose is a life in waste. You have what it takes to be the difference that the world awaits.

Olaniran Olaoluwaikiitan

Until your mind begins to reflect your inner desire, you cannot yield completely to your dreams with vision, courage and discipline. A person of vision is a person too strong to relent. You must know your basic priorities or things that are only adding value to your life. Your enthusiasm and passion for what you do will help you to remain strongly determined.

Onyeji Precious

You need to share your dreams with people who can inspire you and who agree and believe in your vision. Once you have figured out what your dreams are in life, you will need to give it much thought and take some time to examine whether it is what you really want in life. If this is not what you desire in life, then it is not worth pursuing. Dreams make you passionate.

Chidi-Emmanuel Nicle

Many people have never sat down to figure out what it means to have a dream. Once you have outlined your answers to the questions, you will need to examine your answers to see if it really matches your purpose. Be as specific as possible. Regardless of whether it is comfortable for you or not, you need to set goals and targets to actualize your dreams. There's a saying: It's good to be a DREAMER But it's better to be a PLANNER AND A WORKER!

Only you and no one else.

Anyanwu Flourish

There are dreamers who wish they could write a book. There are dreamers who wish they could do the very thing I'm doing right now. There are dreamers who spend their whole life wishing that if only I could become this or that, they will become happy. Live your dream. When you live your dream, you don't go looking for happiness, happiness will come looking for you. When you live your dream you don't go looking for others approval. Others will come looking for you. When you live your dream and die, your dream will live after you.

I am not giving up!

What you do when your dreams are more important than your fears is don't you dare give up easily; fight for what you want. It should take a lot for you to actually give up on your dream. Now I ask you this, If you give up on your dream what is left ? I say don't give up ! You only need to live it . Let it be your wings to soar you high because you are only as big as your dream. You go out there and ignore the odds. You focus on one thing. That your dream come true.

Martins-Osime Sophia

that dream that lights your soul on fire? That's what you were born to pursue. That's what you should be chasing to make a reality. Don't let anyone else tell you otherwise. Your dream was given to you. If someone else can't see i, that's fine, it was given to you and not them. It's your dream. Hold it. Nourish it. Cultivate it! Make sure it bears fruits

BELIEVE IN YOUR OWN SUPER HERO

Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have always imagined. The journey of a thousand miles must begin with a single step. If your dream is both terrifying and amazing, then you should definitely pursue it. Life is full of challenges and opportunities, but only for those who actually struggle to grab the opportunities and overcome the challenges. Hard work and dedication are the only mantra in the journey to achieving your dreams. Without being passionate and the willingness to work hard, no one can achieve it.

Ekene Chikamso

You are stronger than you think. You have survived all your challenges to this point. And you will survive whatever is coming. But next time a struggle comes, Don't curse the skies. Know that it was sent for a reason and a lesson. It might be to make you stronger, it might be to teach you patience, it might be for you to show others your spirit, there is a reason. So do not give up. You have a purpose in this world. And you will only find it if you keep going and keep growing. You can not grow to achieve your dreams without struggle,

Akaolisa Onyinyechukwu

There is no dream too big. Every dream has a process. Every dream has a solution. The solution begins with belief. Even a seemingly empty hand remains a hand that can be used by choosing to continuously place one foot in front of the other, one step at a time we move in a direction called "forward", Knowing that even years of slow steps take us further than a lifetime of no steps. So, dream beyond the familiar. Stretch beyond comfort and convenience – using what you have to reach for it and do so with no shame and beyond doubt... For there is no dream so big it doesn't have a solution... you are that solution.

Chukwumezie Charlse

There are two kinds of people In life. There are dreamers, and there those I call the risk takers. Today I will tell you the difference between a dreamer and those who take risks. A dreamer only dreams and stops dreaming when the going gets tough. Do you know what risk takers do? They tell their tough to keep going. YES. They tell their tough to keep going! The question is, are you a dreamer or a risk taker? When others go to sleep, keep on pushing for your dream. When others quit, keep going. Keep climbing the ladder of success when no one else believes in you. Everyone was born to dream. Not all will love to take risk. Be one of those who will not give up. Be among the few who will live to accomplish their dreams.

Live your dream and never allow any man make you part from your dreams.
Your dream is an inseparable part of who you are. Conceive, envision it, live your dreams. Thank you!

Give The World Your Dream
Why do people work? The answer to this question isn't far-reaching. People work basically for food, clothing and shelter. And interestingly, this is what our school system has taught over the decade. How unfortunate! No wonder the world is in a chaotic mess! Food, clothing and shelter are necessities for life but they can't bring or rescue the world from its hopeless state.
Your dream, I mean that beautiful dream of yours is the best script that can usher in a new species of reality in the world.
A young man was once asked, why do you work? He answered, I work so that I can give to the world. And then, he was further asked, what do you have to give? He responded, my dream! Those who have dreams, big dream, dreams to change the world, whether they eat, drink, cloth or not have a different life. I need you to think about this. The earnest expectations of all creatures awaits the manifestation of your dream(s). All of creation groans in pains waiting to be delivered into the liberty, bliss and succor that your dream carries. God gave you that dream or those dreams for a purpose. You need to give, to receive. God gave Jesus and gained the whole world.
Until a grain of corn falls to the ground and die, it can't produce harvest of more corn.
Give the world your dream(s) and it would in turn give you more than food, clothing and shelter. It will give you the fullness of your life.
Now, I command you, to Go Live your dreams! Remember, never give up. It will surely come.

Wisdom From Grade Five

Everyone on earth has a treasure that awaits him.“ Where your pleasure is, there is your treasure: where your treasure, there your heart; where your heart, there your happiness A true leader has the confidence to stand alone, the courage to make tough decisions, and the compassion to listen to the needs of others. He does not set out to be a leader, but becomes one by the equality of his actions and the integrity of his intent. A good leader inspires people to have confidence in the leader, a great leader inspires people to have confidence in themselves. The challenge of leadership is to be strong, but not rude; be kind, but not weak; be bold, but not bully; be thoughtful, but not lazy; be humble, but not timid; be proud, but not arrogant; have humor, but without folly. Leaders aren't born they are made. And they are made just like anything else, through hard work. And that's the price we'll have to pay to achieve that goal, or any goal. We are all here for some special reason. Stop being intimidated by problems, challenges or people around you. Go strive to create the beautiful life that you want. Become the architect of your future. No one has the permission but you.

Somtochukwu Uzozie

BE ALL YOU DESIRE TO BE

Belief is at the root of any kind of achievement in life. If you can believe that all things are possible, then they will be. Purpose is one thing that seems to really elude a majority of the population, and until purpose is created and defined, achievement will only be a mirage. One can only see himself as a failure when he stops trying, but until then, every disappointment and disaster should be seen as a lesson to learn from. For one to succeed, he has to be willing to fail. There is a saying that “success is on the other side of failure” .

Ogbodo Divine

We hear success stories of individuals who started out with nothing in their pockets and are currently building or have built empires. The interesting question is: How did they do it? How did they move from nothing to something? And why do some people achieve their goals but others don’t? The answer is simple - THEY NEVER GAVE UP. This set of people could visualize what they want long before they had tangible resources. They imagined the reality they wanted to occupy, irrespective of their current realities. If you can think it, it can come to life, and if someone has reached that height, you can reach it too. The words you speak to yourself daily has an active role in shaping you, such is the power in words that what you speak creates your reality. Therefore, if you believe, and you speak positively, it creates your reality which is success, but if you believe that there are limits to what you can achieve, and always put up excuses such as no conducive environment or lack of funds, those limits become your reality.

Egbuna Tochukwu

The words “I can’t” and “It’s impossible” are negative disempowering words – they program us to abort a process. They sabotage whatever chance we have at succeeding. They program us to fail. If you always say ‘I can’t’ or ‘it’s not possible’ it will never be possible, this is because you won’t even try to attempt something outside your limited mind-set. Anything is possible with the right mind-set; the more you believe, the closer you are to achieving your dreams and if you fail, you learn from it, change something and believe again!

Ginikachukwu Ezeamama

Wisdom From Grade Five

Bring in urgency in the pursuit of your dreams. "Without a sense of urgency, desire loses its value. If you don't have urgency in your life, then your desire won't have power. You need to continually create urgency for the desires you have. Hence, the most successful people in the world have schedules and deadlines, etc. even though they have plenty of money. "If you care enough for a result, you will most certainly attain it. The more intense your desire becomes, the more willing you become to do whatever it takes. When you become clear on the outcomes you want, you engineer how to get those results. You may continuously fail but you would not give up. Rather you would pivot and learn until you get what you want. You don't lower your goals or expectations. You don't avoid goals because failure is too painful to deal with. You set a path and continue forward until you succeed.

Okoro Diamond

"There are two types of people: those who get results and those who have reasons for not getting results. If you're not getting the results you want, then you need to continually learn, shift and upgrade your processes. Insanity is doing the same thing over and over and expecting a different result. So, look at your results. Are they what you want? Do they reflect the goals you're striving for? Are you moving forward at the rate you could be? If not, then change it up.

Ofuli Kennedy

Here's a fascinating question: what are you currently paying attention to? What you pay attention to reflects what you think about and desire. Your job is to train your attention. You do this by setting specific and intentional goals and then fueling the desire of those goals through congruent and courageous action, routinized visualization, and environment design, including key relationships. "A strong passion for any object will ensure success, for the desire of the end, will point out the means."

Your desires and goals are what determine your process. When you set a huge goal, ask yourself this question: "What would need to occur in order for this to be true?"

For example, if you want to make one million naira, or 10 million naira, in the next 12 months, what level of hard work would need to occur in order for this to be true? Or as a pupil, if you want to come tops and win certain awards, what level time must I devote to my studies for this to come true. Success is never magic. Success is an intentional process. The goal determines the process.

Ezech Samuel

Goals give us direction. They put a powerful force into play on a universal, conscious, and subconscious level. Goals give our life direction. Your goals and desires give your life direction. It also shapes who you become. When you decide on a goal and deepen your desire to achieve that goal, it will change who you are at both the conscious and subconscious levels. Your subconscious is what truly determines who you become. Thus, you need to fuel your desire and beliefs every single day. You do this through committed and bold action, and by shaping your environment to match your goals. According to Zig Ziglar "Your input determines your outlook. Your outlook determines your output, and your output determines your future. When you decide you really want something, you must begin eliminating stuff from your life that conflicts with that goal. You need to create an environment that matches your goal. Over time, you become the product of your environment. This includes the people you surround yourself with, places you go, and media you consume."

Chukwumezie Michael

Wisdom From Grade Five

Be the super hero you want to be by investing in yourself. How do you spend your time and other resources? What do you commit yourself to? What are your priorities? How much time do you spend working on yourself to become better? How many books have you read? What new skills have you acquired? A lot of people spend their free time sleeping, following irrelevant activities on social media or day dreaming of irrelevant things, making wishes but never taking actions. The difference between Successful and Unsuccessful people is in the fact that they both invested their time differently. In this competitive world, your life has to be effective, you have to build

Odikpo Chimfunanya

Now listen, don't you ever give in to fear in your journey of life. What kills aspirations in today's world is FEAR. Fear of the unknown; Fear of not being able to reach our desired goals; Fear of not being good enough. At the end of the day, instead of motivating us to achieve our goals, fear weakens us, and soon we start making excuses, denying ourselves the chance for greatness. GET A LIFE COACH when fear grips you and it seems you can't go on. According to Bob Nardelli, 'Unless coached, people may not reach their MAXIMUM CAPABILITIES. Coaching is a valuable tool to humans, most especially, in helping to solve issues ranging from Emotions and Personal dreams. Coaching moves you from where you are to where you ought to be. It propels us to understand ourselves fully, realize our potentials and become the best version of ourselves.'

Edem Emmanuella

With experience and time reflecting, you can decide what you want. Take a look at your life. How are the results you're getting? Do you know what you actually want? How dispersed and "confused" is your focus? Is all of your energy being channelled to a single direction, or are you trying to do too many things? "Desire is the starting point of all achievement, not a hope, not a wish, but a keen pulsating desire which transcends everything. In order to truly succeed at something, you have to really want it. You need to want it more and more every day.

Nwaiwu Kamsi

According to the "Expectancy Theory of Motivation." three things must occur for a person to be deeply and fully motivated toward their goals. Those three things are:

1. You must believe that the reward (the 'WHY') of a particular goal is important, meaningful, and compelling.
2. You must believe that you know how (clear strategies/plans/people) to achieve your goal.
3. You must believe that you can execute the plans, strategies, and pivot involved in achieving the goal.

Ekene Chidubem

These are the big three which you must have to succeed at any level. Interestingly, long before Expectancy Theory existed, the billionaire H.L. Hunt said: "There are only three requirements for success. First, decide exactly what it is you want in life. Second, determine the price that you are going to have to pay to get the things you want. And third, and this is most important, resolve to pay that

Olaniran Omowonuola

You increase the desire to achieve your dreams, by engaging in activities and behaviors that clearly and directly relate to what you want. Your behavior shapes your identity. When you begin acting toward your desire, you begin to become your desire. "Those who restrain desire do so because theirs is weak enough to be restrained. William Blake. Burning desires can't be restrained. If you don't achieve your goals, it is because you didn't fuel your desire to achieve that goal every day. Your brain and belief system are incredibly malleable and fluid. With proper behavior, emotion, and environmental signalling, you can reshape your brain to match your goals. Thus, quite literally, you will be mentally and physically what your desires are. "Your eyes can only see and your ears can only hear what your brain is looking for. Your brain is always looking for something. Psychologists call this selective attention."

Wisdom From Grade Six

To succeed, always have a plan and Never Procrastinate. Be sure to have a plan and if it doesn't work, improve on that plan to make it stronger. Rome was not built in a day, therefore everything has its season, just keep on pushing. The struggle should make you stronger and not weaken you. Remember, procrastination steals your time without you realizing it. Put an end to procrastination and become selfdisciplined. Act like your life depends on it. If it matters so much to you, you would not put it off till another time. Always have a compelling reason to get it done- that way, you won't procrastinate. Your reason must be bigger than your excuses. Develop the habit of getting things done even when you don't feel like doing it. Make whatever you are doing important enough. Always have in mind the reason behind every task that you take. Why you do what you do is more important than what you do. Sometimes, your motive is your biggest motivation. Start taking action and find a reason you must do this and never stop until you achieve your aim.

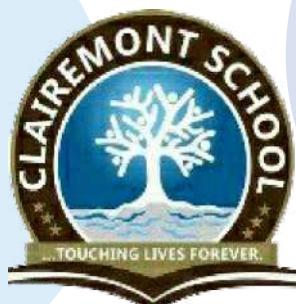

Anachebe Daniel

The difference between successful people and exceptionally successful people is that exceptionally successful people say "No" to almost everything. The more you desire specific things, the more you have to say "no" to nearly everything else. True decisions mean you cut off all alternative options. Decision is the opposite of "willing" because "willing" means you never actually decided and you never shaped an environment to facilitate that choice. "Willing" means you have not trained your desires and you have not reshaped your brain and identity to match those desires. It becomes much easier to say "no" when you've made a real decision.

We all have goals in life. Each one of us wants to achieve something, whether great or small, at some point in our lives. We have deep-seated hopes and dreams for the future and a burning desire to accomplish some great feats. It's stitched into the very fabric of our hearts, woven into the core of who we are, deep inside. It's emblazoned in our DNA, genetically predispositioned, not just for mere survival, but also with a yearning passion to thrive and to achieve it. Only you have the vision and the capacity to birth your dreams.

GIVE THE WORLD YOUR DREAM

Why do people work? The answer to this question isn't far-reaching. People work basically for food, clothing and shelter.

And interestingly, this is what our school system has taught over the decade. How unfortunate! No wonder the world is in a chaotic mess! Food, clothing and shelter are necessities for life but they can't bring or rescue the world from its despicable and hopeless state.

Your dream, I mean that beautiful dream of yours is the best script that can usher in a new species of reality in the world.

A young man was once asked, why do you work? He answered, I work so that I can give to the world. And then, he was further asked, what do you have to give? He responded, my dream!

Those who have dreams, big dream, dreams to change the world, whether they eat, drink, cloth or not have a different life.

I need you to think about this. The earnest expectations of all creatures await the manifestation of your dream(s). All of creation groans in pains waiting to be delivered into the liberty, bliss and succour that your dream carries.

God gave you that dream or those dreams for a purpose. God gave Jesus and gained the whole world. Until a grain of corn falls to the ground and die, it can't produce harvest of more corn.

Give the world your dream(s) and it would in turn give you more than food, clothing and shelter. Live your dreams!

C ommendation Note to Clairemont School by Mrs. Okoro. (Clairemont Pioneer Parent)

I remembered vividly 8 years ago when I first came into Clairmont school Lagos, as the first parent to enroll her children into this great school. As a parent that has a quest to enrol my children in a school with high academic standards and moral consciousness, two minutes engagement with the school's Educational Director- Mrs. Oby Awugosi, I was so sure and 100% convinced that Clairmont school is the perfect school for my children, despite the fact that the school just officially opened and by children and Mrs Awugosi's children were to be the 1st pupils on the school's enrollment list. 8 years down the lane, that decision remains the most worthy decision. I love the school "Clairmont" for her high academic standard and high moral values they imbibed in my children. They have formed the character of my children so well that I am beginning to take pride in being a super mum. Each Clairemont child has a mentor that helps to care, mentor, monitor and form the child's moral and academic standing. Clairemont pupils' character is nurtured and prepared to shape them today and in future. If your child is a Clairemont Child, you are blessed. No one can molest a Clairemont child as the school educates and prepares them to stay safe and protect themselves from molestation and bullying. Clairemont school helps your child to have vision at an early age. Clairemont educates the mind of my children, build their character and shape their future in a way that touches my heart that I can't keep quiet anymore. The school gives a multi dimensional platform for my children to experiment a quality education and extra school curricular activities. Art and Craft, different types of dance- cultural, pantomime, ballet, Hip Pop, Zulu, contemporary dance etc, Entrepreneurial skills; where they learn bead making, fascinator, lovely slipas designs etc , orchestra; were a child can learn to play musical instruments of choice. My child is a pro in playing drum sets. Listen to the Clairemont choir during their programs or Annual Thanksgiving and you will be proud to be a Clairemont parent. Clairemont School Children's Stage presence is top-notch. They are so bold, confident and charismatic during speech presentations that you will control your goosebumps. All these Prepare the children for out of school life, develop their talents and give them the boldness and confidence to face the world. Every Clairemont child's silent mantra is " I can do all things through Christ who Strengthens me". Clairemont School takes interest in innovative and challenging programs with a well balanced approach on academics. Each child is made to feel special and loved, this increases my children's self - esteem Above all , I love their high moral standard and credible high academic standards, not make believe results to please parents. Clairemont will give your child 1.0 GPA then sympathize with you to find ways to fill the academic gap. I have seen all the Clairmont school mission and vision in the life of all my children. I have always referred Clairmont school to people and am still referring because Clairmont school's uniqueness and quality which can not be found in most schools in Lagos can not be compromised. This is just to say

"Thank you"

Amanda became jealous . The next day , Amanda rushed to the market to buy potatoes and saw the same old woman who gave Bella the egg. The woman brought out a big egg and a small egg and asked Amanda "Please choose the egg you want my dear" Amanda chose the Big one because of her greediness. When Amanda got home and wanted to crack her egg, she locked herself inside the room because she didn't want to share, but suddenly, a giant monster came out of the egg and attacked Amanda, as a result, Amanda died. ## Title: The poor girl who turned rich.

Once upon a time, there lived a poor girl named Elizabeth. She was 19 years old. Her father died in a sinking ship and her mother was kidnapped. She was lonely, she didn't know how to cook anything.

She was starving and sick and wore tattered clothes and her hair was unkept. Nobody wanted to help her. Rather, they laughed and made fun of her.

Then one day, The prince was passing by, he saw Elizabeth looking so hungry and sick. The prince said to Elizabeth "why are you looking so sick" Elizabeth explained her situation to the prince. The prince was filled with compassion. He gave lots of money to her and also gave her lots of food stuff. Elizabeth was very appreciative and thanked the prince. She liked the prince because he was kind-hearted.

One day, when she became healthy and well, she went to the palace and asked the prince, can I marry you?" The prince said "Yes" Then the prince call his maids to take Elizabeth, make her up and dress her in royal robes.

When they dressed and brought her back, she we very beautify and looked liked like a princess. The prince loved her ever after. That is how the poor girl became rich and also a princess

The Evil King

Once upon a time, there lived a king and his family.

The royal family ruled the people of Obodo Mmiri with oppression and wickedness. The royal family were also cultists. One day, the royal family secretly killed Ogadi- village boy. No one knew who killed him. When the news got to the king, he pretended not to know anything about the killing of the innocent village boy.

The king equally showed no concern when the villagers wanted to consult the Oracle to know who killed the boy. Infact he chased them away and forbids from going.

The villagers became suspicious of the king but they could do nothing. Thankfully, a pastor came all the way from Lagos, just to tell everyone in Obodo Miri village that the royal family murdered Ogadi the village boy. Three days after the news broke out, the whole royal family died in their sleep. The villagers were asked to choose another King and Queen. They chose the good man, Mazi Nwanneamaka and his beautiful wife Amaka as their next king and queen.

From that day hence, the people of Obodo Mmiri lived happily ever after

HEALTH IS WEALTH

How often have we heard the Words "Health is wealth" and yet so long as we keep good health, we never realize how true these words are.

"Health is wealth" is a well known saying which we have all heard since we were children. This implies that health is more important than money. Once we die, the wealth in our life will also mean nothing for us. The invaluable aspect of health makes it a true asset for us.

There are probably no greater blessings than being born with zero health issues, but one must not take good health for granted. There are very few people who understand that wealth would mean nothing if their health is on the line. Illnesses occur for many reasons and sometimes help us build our immunity as well. But many times, these illnesses can also turn fatal or harm us in an unrecoverable way. Therefore we must treat our body like a holy temple and invest time and energy to our physical and mental health. A healthy body is one that is physically, emotionally and mentally healthy and in good condition. Health is more valuable than anything else. It is said that the secret of a happy man is in having a healthy and disciplined lifestyle because happiness and success are impossible to achieve without good health. Good health brings joy to our life. A man who has good health wouldn't need to burn his wealth on medication. However, a man who has terrible health has to spend more cash to fix it.

People work very hard to earn money, but they neglect their health and that is a huge mistake because once they fall ill, they don't do their work with the same focus and dedication.

A physically unfit person has a lot of problem in their personal and professional life. They cannot do work for long hours and they are also dependent on others to meet their requirements.

We have to maintain good health. One way of keeping healthy is by eating right. Many of us indulge ourselves thoughtlessly in all sorts of junk food. Junk food destroys our life. It is the root cause of many diseases. Good health is a matter of concern. We have to avoid unhygienic junk food and also maintain our health to be wealthy. While we are but humans to eat junk food, moderation is the key to maintaining good health.

Regular exercise is also very important for good health. It enhances the blood circulation in our body. Our games, play, walks, swimming, doing yoga, are just as important as our studies.

Good sleep, maintaining a disciplined life, cleanliness, fresh fruits and vegetables are also excellent for our health. Therefore, if you have good health, then you can earn your riches. Two kinds of people exist on Earth, one who are very conscious about their health and work hard to keep it fit, and the others WHO are the basic couch potatoes, who are lazier than a sloth. Being unhealthy physically will make you sad and unhappy, and being not well mentally will also affect your physical health. Therefore the balance between the physical and mental health must be well maintained by everyone. If any health issues arise, immediately seek professional and treat appropriately.

So let us enjoy our childhood and adulthood for the best time of our lives is now!

Self Discipline

Self discipline means self control which gives you inner strength and a way to control yourself, actions and reactions. It is the ability to control one's impulses, emotions, desires and behaviour. It is being able to turn down immediate pleasure or an instant gratification in favour of gaining the long-term satisfaction and fulfillment for achieving higher and more meaningful goals.

Self discipline enables you push yourself forward, stay motivated and take action regardless of how you're feeling, physically or emotionally. To possess self-discipline is to be able to make the decisions, take the actions and execute the game plan regardless of the obstacles, discomfort or difficulties that may come your way. Certainly being discipline does not mean living a limiting or restrictive lifestyle. Nor, does it mean giving up everything you enjoy or, to relinquish fun and relaxation. It does mean learning how to focus your mind and energies on your goals and persevere until they are accomplished. It also means cultivating a mindset where you are ruled by your deliberate choices rather than by your emotions, bad habits or sway of others. Self-discipline allows you to reach your goals in a reasonable time frame and to live a more orderly and satisfying life.

How to Develop Self-Discipline.

Self discipline is like a muscle: the more you work on developing it and using it, the stronger it becomes. However, is just as important not to start out with goals that are too ambitious. Instead, set small goals, and increase the level of challenge slowly over time. The more you practice, the better you become.

Set your goals: The first step towards leading a disciplined life is to set goals. Goals give a clear idea about what needs to be achieved. One must always set a timeline for your goals. This serve as a driving force and motivate you to work hard. It is a good idea to set both short-term and long-term goals. Remember starting small is the best way to start developing yourself discipline. As your self discipline get stronger, you can spread the focus to more areas of your life and further, ensure, that the goal you set is Smart, Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant and Time-bound - and break the goal down into smaller subgoals where you can.

Meditate : Meditation is one of the best ways to channel our energy to the right direction. It helps maintain focus, acquaints us with her inner self and furthers better self control. It is the stepping stone for a disciplined life. Meditating for half an hour everyday can help in inculcating self discipline.

Set a routine: Those who set a routine and follow it daily lead a more disciplined life. It is suggested to list all the task that you require accomplishing in a given day. Write them in the order of their priority, set a timeline for each and act accordingly. This is a good way to lead an organised and disciplined life. Stay away from distractions/ obstacles. Identifying the obstacles that you will likely face when working towards your goals and devise a strategy for overcoming each one. In this technology driven world, there are numerous things that can distract us and take charge of our lives. Our mobile phones, televisions and chatting apps as some of the new age things that are big hindrance in practicing self discipline. No matter how determined we are to study, work or sleep on time bad habit and replace it with something more productive.

Stay positive: Many people want want to inculcate themselves to play inculcate to self discipline but are unable to because they somehow believe that it is difficult to achieve.

They feel that it is too much to ask for and that they shall not be able to go practice it .This is a wrong approach. You can achieve anything in life if you stay positive and believe in yourself. This is the pre-requisite for inculcating self discipline. Benefits and importance: Self-discipline helps you to overcome the bad habits by meditating regularly. It gives you the ability not to give up after failure, setback, develop self-control, provide the ability to resist distractions, helps you to motivate yourself until you accomplish your goals.

Conclusion

Achieving self-discipline may be difficult but in other to lead a healthy personal and professional life, It is very important. A self-discipline person makes optimum use of time. Hence, you can achieve more and do more work as compared to a person who is not self-disciplined. We should therefore make some efforts to achieve it.

Story Title- The Proud Rose

Moral of the story-Never judge anyone by the way they look.

Once upon a time, in a desert far away, there was a rose who was so proud of her beautiful looks. Her only complaint was growing next to an ugly cactus. Every day, the beautiful rose would insult and mock the cactus on his looks, all while the cactus remained quiet. All the other plants nearby tried to make the rose see sense, but she was too swayed by her own looks. One scorching summer, the desert became dry, and there was no water left for the plants. The rose quickly began to wilt. Her beautiful petals dried up, losing their lush color. Looking to the cactus, she saw a sparrow dip his beak into the cactus to drink some water. Though ashamed, the rose asked the cactus if she could have some water. The kind cactus readily agreed, helping them both through the tough summer, as friends. Name- Onyeiwu Chinene

Sports @ Clairemont School

Sports in Clairmont school is always fun and it is an activity I always look forward to.

Our school sports involves exercises and games like aerobics, handball, sack race, Egg race, relay race, flip the bottle etc.

On a typical sports day, we commence with aerobics, then follows athletics. Egg race is the sports most children love because it's easy. Both junior and senior school can play it.

Our indoor games in Clairmont school are chess ,monopoly, scrabble, snake, ladder and ludo games .

We engage in all these games because all work and no play makes jack a dull boy.

My school engaged in her Biennial Inter - House Sports Competition last April 2022 and it was super exciting.

Pupils represented their houses in different athletics and Match past. The competition was stiff and it was fun and very interesting.

We had a very vigorous training on match pass and other sports. At the end of the competition, Yellow House came out as the overall best in the competition.

One thing I learnt in the just concluded Clairemont School Biennial Inter- House sport competition is that it's not always who starts first or who gave a pace in life that comes out a winner, but the one who is persistent and also with God's grace and staying focused.

Red house would have won the Gold but they lost a lot of chances towards the end of the competition.

So I learnt to persist, to stay focused and to never give up.

CREATE FORCE IN THE HEART OF THE LEARNERS

Creative Force: is the ability to exercise skilfulness in the heart of the innovation in a child and often comes with a words of creative thinking which was further defined as the thinking that enables pupils to apply knowledge in expressing themselves in a conducive atmosphere. What are the creativity of a learner? The creative learners are intrinsically motivated and independently; when they are interested in a task or creation, they will see it through with very little assistance needed from their teachers, parents, uncles, aunties or friends. They also think deeply whatever they are working on and will come up with a new levels of depth in cultural oriented taught. Why creativity is important in Learning

Creativity motivates kids to learn. With experience gained my two decades of teaching, it has shown that creativity with positive oriented mind has a lot of great role to play in achieving intrinsic motivation to prompt a child's mind to learn. When pupils are focused on creative goals, they become more absorbed in their learning and more, driven to acquire the skills they need to accomplish in such exercises like art workshops, Exhibitions, art competition, Art educational tours, Art seminars etc. Other ways to teach and encourage creativity in the classroom includes:

- Set aside extra time to learn practical techniques of producing artworks.
- By allowing learners to participate in practical exercises.
- By creating room for brainstorming session in the class for them to ask questions.
- Using gratification to stimulates the interest of a child in art.
- Encourage them in risk taking in order to stand tall in the future.
- Leave them mostly, to create things on their own while in the classroom.

I will like to seize this opportunity to thank our Parents, the Educational Director- Mrs Oby Awugosi, our fellow teachers and Pupils of Clairemont School for their role in ensuring the success of the last edition of Clairemont Scholl Annual Art Exhibition.

SOME TIPS IN ACHIEVING ONE'S GOAL

Dreams are series of thoughts, images, and sensations occurring in a person's mind during sleep. With the right attitude and right steps, one can achieve their plans and goals in life. Below are some of the tips that will help one to achieve his goals in life:

1. Be Positive and Confident

This is the most important tip among other tips in reaching your dreams. The more positive you are, the more you are open to opportunities and success. Law of Attraction states that whatever you put out comes back to you and so as you see the best in things and as you think highly of yourself, you begin to attract the people and situations into your life that will lead you to what you want. Think about it: when you are feeling down and frustrated, you probably aren't very clear, focused or connected. You may be looking at the ground worrying, instead of making eye contact and striking up a wonderful conversation that might just change your life. So be confident, be positive and appreciate the little things as well as the big.

2. Look ahead and Visualize your Dreams

It can be all too easy to see how far you have to go and feel discouraged. Especially when you have inevitable setbacks. This is why it is so important to focus forward and visualize your dreams every day. Likely, your dreams won't materialize overnight. But if you focus forward, and can see your dream in your mind before it happens, then your sub-conscious knows what to move toward. As you focus forward, imagine beautiful opportunities appearing before you. Imagine how good you feel living your dream life. Allow yourself to bask in this feeling and delight in the desire of what you want. As you do this, you are more open to receive goodness and your dreams will quickly begin to materialize. It can be extremely helpful to keep an appreciation journal, where you write down your dreams and goals in present tense. The whole point is to connect with how you will feel in your ideal future so you are feeling it now. If you can do this, then you are half way there because you already feel great! You will raise your vibration closer to the vibration of your dreams. You will be confident and more positive, which makes you able to take inspired action that make your dreams come true!

3. Make Every Step Fun

So many of us have been taught that with enough hard work anything is possible. But this idea leaves out something very important: the people who truly reach their dreams, especially in the biggest ways, have fun along the way. If you do what feels good then you will feel happier. When you feel happier, you are more inspired. Find what makes you feel good and focus on it, because feeling happy and inspired every step of the way is key. As you let go of the old belief that success has to be hard, you see life becomes happier and easier. You won't need will power because you are driven with happy inspiration and you will be excited to get the next step of your work done! As you make fun and happiness a priority, you will notice wonderful shifts, and creating your dreams in very big ways will become easier than you were ever led to believe.

4. List out Your Plans and Break them Into Little Pieces

Breaking down that big dreams of yours can help you to achieve them. A journey of thousands miles begins with a step and so breaking them down into little pieces will help you to achieve your goals. It will also avoid becoming derailed before you even begin. Grab a pen or your computer and write down your desire. Then write what needs to be done. Take your plans a little at a time. Even if you only do one per day or month, you can feel positive that you are going in the right direction step by step. Remain focus don't give up, you will surely achieve your goals.

THE PROS AND CONS OF SKIPPING A CLASS

The decision whether a child should bypass one year academic level is not an easy one. The school and the parents, who make this decision jointly, must weigh the risks of skipping versus not skipping.

A very bright child who is being taught materials he/she is not ready for may become turned off to school and start to underachieve. Even if she does the work, it may be done in a perfunctory manner, with little learning taking place.

Skipping a class has a lot of risks. A child who breezed through work previously may suddenly be faced with academic pressures for which he/she is unprepared for. In addition, a child who is moved ahead may be able to keep pace in the classroom yet feel out of place with her new classmates.

If your child is performing above grade level in all academic areas, she is not necessarily a candidate for skipping. If you suspect that your child is not being sufficiently challenged, contact the teacher to see what changes can be made in the classroom. You might also talk with the Head of School to find out what programs are available outside the classroom, including gifted and talented program.

After reviewing these school alternatives, there is still need to evaluate the child on the following variables to fully understand the weight of this vital decision:

Learning Aptitude: Your assessment of your child's reasoning skills

1. What has to be broken before you can use it?

Answer: An egg

2. I'm tall when I'm young, and I'm short when I'm old. What am I?

Answer: A candle

3. What month of the year has 28 days?

Answer: All of them

4. What is full of holes but still holds water?

Answer: A sponge

5. What question can you never answer yes to?

Answer: Are you asleep yet?

6. What is always in front of you but can't be seen?

Answer: The future

9. You see a boat filled with people, yet there isn't a single person on board. How is that possible?

Answer: All the people on the boat are married.

10. You walk into a room that contains a match, a kerosene lamp, a candle and a fireplace. What would you light first?

Answer: The match

1 I am a tiny tin full of death what am I? A gun

2 I am Long but deadly what am I? Snake

3 I am small but Dangerous what am I? A pin

4 what goes up and goes down ? Elevator

Grade 3: From Uzozie Chiemere

should draw from the teacher's observations as well as testing results.

Academic Skills: To evaluate these skills, review your child's report cards, work samples, and standardized test results.

Work Habits: Does your child work well independently? Can she concentrate for a sustained period? Can she prepare for tests effectively? Does she do homework consistently?

Ability to Tolerate Academic Pressure: How will she cope with an increased workload? Will it upset her to no longer be the star of the class? How will she respond if she struggles in some subjects?

Enjoyment of Learning: Does she enjoy learning new things? Will she pursue topics of interest on her own?

Social Maturity: Is the child mentally ready and socially mature for the class? Does she relate well with other children? Is she confident in social situations? Can the child withstand social and peer pressure?

Age: With age comes maturity of heart and mind. Is your child's age appropriate for the proposed class. Also give weight to your child's views. If she is anxious at the prospect of skipping, she may not feel ready and may not be ready. If your child remains motivated in her present grade, is uncomplaining about the work, is comfortable with her classmates and is uninterested in advancing a grade, think twice about having her skip a grade. Not how fast but how well.

PROCESSIONAL HYMN

SHOWERS OF BLESSING

1. There shall be showers of blessing:
This is the promise of love;
There shall be seasons refreshing,
Sent from the Savior above.

Refrain:
Showers of blessing,
Showers of blessing we need;
Mercy-drops round us are falling,
But for the showers we plead.

2. There shall be showers of blessing
Precious reviving again;
Over the hills and the valleys,
Sound of abundance of rain.

3. There shall be showers of blessing;
Send them upon us, O Lord!
Grant to us now a refreshing;
Come, and now honor Thy Word.

4. There shall be showers of blessing;
O that today they might fall,
Now as to God we're confessing,
Now as on Jesus we call!

5. There shall be showers of blessing,
If we but trust and obey;
There shall be seasons refreshing,
If we let God have His way.

A quality education has the power to transform societies in a single generations, provide children with the protection they need from the hazards of poverty and labor exploitation, while providing them with the knowlegde, skills and confidence to reach their full potential.
